

Domain Registration

Internet domain is a textual label that identifies a set of devices or Internet service providers, linking them into a unique administrative- technical unit. A domain consists of a series of alphanumeric segments and digits separated by points, compatible with Internet standards. A domain name must not be less than two (2), nor longer than sixty-three (63) signs. The domain name must not contain a hyphen at the beginning nor end, also must not contain consecutive hyphens in the third and fourth position.

Internet domain system (Domain Name System, DNS) is the basic Internet service, which enables translation of Internet domains in the IP numbers and vice versa. WebPortal™ Hosting Centar, besides hosting service, offers you the possibility of registration of two types of Internet domains:

- Territorial or CCTLD (Country Code Top Level Domain) and
- Generic or GTLD (Generic Top Level Domain)

Territorial domains indicate the state in which the domain is registered. For the territory of Serbia, CCTLD domain is .rs. In addition to this domain, the registration of CCTLD domain of Montenegro .me can be done for you.

Generic domens are international domains, and they can be registered by anyone. Some of the most popular GTLD domains are the following domains .com, .net, .org, .info, .biz, .eu, .mobi, .fm, .tv... Domain transfer is the transfer of competency for the domain from one registry to another, and it usually takes between 5 and 10 days to carry out the transfer.

Before the transfer of the domain, it is necessary to check whether it is left at least 15 days of the domain until the expiration, because it is the shortest period before the expiration so that the domain can be moved in the other register.

If you want to make the transfer of your domain, you need to send us a request via e-mail [transfer\[at\]webportal.rs](mailto:transfer[at]webportal.rs). The domain transfer to our servers and registries, with which we cooperate, is free and implies its extension for the next year, and it is the only cost during the transfer. If you still do not have Internet presentation and are not a user of our Web Hosting service, but you want to reserve the domain name, we offer you a service of domain parking.

The "parking" domain service allows domain registration without renting space on our servers. Domain "parking" works as a kind of domain reservation, which means that from the moment when you register your own domain, to "launching" of your presentation, the registered domain remains reserved just for you. Domain "parking" includes setting up a typical web page with the notification about the busyness of this domain. Domain parking is free if you do the registration of a domain via us.
